

Report to Wells Town Council from Peter Fisher NNDC 4th March 2024

Changes to Waste Collections From 8th April 2024

From the 8th April there will be day/week changes to refuse collections for most residents. There will also be change to the garden and trade waste collection rounds. There are several reason why this is being done. The first is that the location where the recycling waste is deposited is changing. This was at Aylsham but is now changing necessitating a review. The garden waste collections have not been reviewed for some years and have grown substantially to the point where an extra round and a new freighter has been added to the fleet. The trade waste has also increased and now has an extra freighter.

Residents will be notified of changes during March. Members a receiving a briefing on the 13th March 2024. Missed collections can be reported in the usual way. <https://www.north-norfolk.gov.uk/tasks/environmental-services/report-a-missed-bin-collection/> Serco Direct 03301099220.

North Norfolk Sustainability Fund

The North Norfolk Sustainability Fund has had to be suspended due to the current financial problems. The fund has been supported by NNDC since the finance from NCC was withdrawn. This can no longer be sustained. It is hoped that it can be resurrected if finances allows. The fund has helped many small organisations to renew and update things from kitchens in village halls to children's playing fields.

Councillors voted to increase North Norfolk District Council's share of Council Tax for 2024-25 by 3% at last night's Full Council meeting.

This reflects an annual increase of £4.95 or less for the District element of Council Tax for 84.6% of properties in the district.

This increase only reflects the portion of Council Tax North Norfolk District Council charges and collects. Any changes to the charges levied by Norfolk County Council, Parish Councils and Norfolk Police and Crime Commissioner will still be reflected in Council Tax bills for 2024/25 – accounting for more than 90% of the total cost to tax-payers in our district.

In the 2024/25 Council Tax budget, just 8p per £1 of Council Tax went to North Norfolk District Council for all the services it provided, with 75p going to Norfolk County Council, 14p going to the Police and Crime Commissioner and 3p going to Town and Parish Councils.

Each year, the Council sets its budget and allocates its proportion of Council Tax income towards the functions and services it provides to residents in North Norfolk.

The Council is facing a financial shortfall of £1.5m next year, with principal contributing factors including a sharp increase in the cost of providing temporary accommodation and national factors such as rising energy costs and inflation.

Cllr. Tim Adams, Leader of North Norfolk District Council, said:

“The 2024/2025 budget has been produced during a very challenging time for the local government sector as a whole, with significant increases in costs, particularly related to homelessness and temporary accommodation which is now costing the authority around £1m a year.

This budget reflects this challenging context, with savings and additional revenue of £1.225m to close this gap. This, sadly, will result in some reductions in discretionary services during the year. The Council tax rise can only provide £205,000, and therefore not enough to close the total deficit of £1.5m.

Following years of robust and careful budgetary decisions, we are pleased that the authority is still in a position where it has no external debts, which is increasingly rarer among Councils nationally, and a position we will seek to retain as much as possible.

Despite the challenges, our capital budget does provide for continued investment in Council facilities and property, contributing to a reduction in running costs, meeting net zero objectives and provision of sports and leisure facilities providing for residents and supporting our visitor economy.”

What services does my Council Tax pay for?

Norfolk County Council’s 2024/25 budget is £528 million and covers services such as children’s services (including schools), adult social services, community and environment services and general finance (inc. money set aside for capital projects).

At North Norfolk District Council’s level, expenditure is split into capital and revenue – capital spending is one-off projects such as The Reef, major improvement works (such as Cromer Pier works), initiatives (such as new affordable housing and purchase of temporary accommodation) or infrastructure procurement (such as the development of Changing Places and improved public toilets in recent months).

Revenue spending covers the Council’s wider service provisions, such as coastal management, environmental services and culture and recreation (including leisure centres and public parks).
